

THOUGHT PARTNER/COACH

A personalized course for K-12 educators who teach energy & climate | 2018/19

Deepen your energy, STEM, or NGSS practice with our personalized professional learning course, with customized support from a VEEP energy thought partner or coach. VEEP will support you to continue developing your best energy and climate teaching strategies, creatively problem solve, and monitor progress towards improved student outcomes. Get support to develop and/or run an instructional sequence that might include project-based learning, engineering tasks, NGSS elements, individualized learning, and/or transferable skills.

Cost: $1,100 per teacher for a three-credit course.
